

BORN & BORNER

Martin Villiger

Martin worked for more than 20 years in the banking, insurance and reinsurance industry. He gained in-depth expertise in corporate governance, risk management, control framework, audit, management information, processes and procedures including the handling of IT requirements in different roles across the globe.

Selected responsibilities included the implementation of global governance, risk management, risk reporting and processes in major Swiss banks and insurance companies.

His responsibility as a senior project manager included the implementation of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act in the corporate center of a major Swiss bank and the responsibility for Northern Europe for a major Swiss insurance company when Swiss banks and insurance companies were facing a class action in the United States for their roles during World War II.

Most recent engagements included the set-up of a comprehensive governance, risk and control framework for a major bank in the area of derivatives regulation and trade-related regulations such as DoddFrank, EMIR or FMIA as well as the handling and implementation of IT requirements.

With partners, Martin founded Frootas, a company specializing in information management and data visualization. The company has a strong focus on board and senior management information for financial service companies. Furthermore, together with a partner, Frootas developed a time-bank and visualized the benefit of the neighborhood assistance concept KISS (Keep It Small and Simple) which is being rolled out across Switzerland. Through KISS Martin was introduced into the Health Tech industry and gained knowhow in the blockchain technology.
